Central District Plan, New Zoning Ordinance Hearings Set For April 4

On Monday evening, April 4, 7:30 o'clock, Carmel citizens will have an opportunity to tell the Carmel Planning Commission what they think of the planners' proposed traffic flow pattern, one way streets, Ocean Avenue Pedestrian Park, closure of Mountain View Avenue at Ocean Avenue with a park, and a proposed ordinance which would require everybody now in business or the professions either to provide their own parking or pay a levy to the city to buy public parking lots . . . to hit the high spots.

Yesterday afternoon at their regular meeting, the planning commission set April 4 for a public hearing on their proposed central business district plan and also on the proposed new zoning ordinance.

A second hearing on the plan, and possibly the ordinance, will be held at 4:00 o'clock, April 13.

The planning commission will decide whether or not to modify the plan and zoning ordinance in light of the opinions expressed at the hearings, and send them to the "new" city council (three members are to be elected April 12.)

The "new" council will also hold hearings.

Yesterday afternoon Chairman Herbert Blanks gave a report of suggestions for changes the chairman's committee had received since the plan was presented to the city council last week.

Among those the planning commission agreed upon were:

If Mountain View is to be closed at Ocean Avenue by a park, right of way should be retained for a footpath to Torres Street. They said no to a sand-bag tryout of the traffic flow scheme. It might take all summer, they observed, and they want the plan adopted by June 30.

Suggested changes in the proposed zoning ordinance they approved: In section (j) the addition of a phrase "not serving customers in vehicles" to bar drive-ins but allow open air restaurants.

In the list of permitted uses in the C-1 protected Ocean Avenue core they changed massage and physical culture studios to massage and physiotherapy. Theatres and auditoriums they put in "conditional uses" (use permit required.)

In the less protected C-1-S (less protected than C-1 core and also less protected than it is under the existing zoning ordinance) they removed diaper and linen supply laundries, since the service is readily available over the hill and is not allowed under the existing ordinance; put parcel delivery services under conditional use, since it was suggested that otherwise Carmel might find a heavy trucking yard among its specialty shops, crafts and art galleries. Taxidermists were eliminated on the grounds that they smell, and musical instrument repair shops because they're noisy.

Among the conditional uses for the C-1-S zone they deleted carpet and rug cleaning and dyeing. They retained blacksmith shops, bus depots and transit stations, feed and fuel stores, gasoline service stations, ice storage houses, exterminators, uses that are not allowed under the present zoning ordinance.

Among the "general provisions" of the proposed ordinance, the control over open space and off-street

Anne Hart, Dianne Miller, Dagny Janss, three prize winners of the poetry contest for Monterey Peninsula high school students sponsored by the Arena Blanca Chapter of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets.

Olivia Young, president of the local chapter, presented the cash prizes and read the winning poems last night at the regular meeting of the Arena Blanca Chapter at the Church of the Wayfarer.

First prize went to Dagny Janss, a student at Santa Catalina School for Girls; Dianne Miller, a Carmel High School student won second prize, and third prize was taken by Anne Hart of Santa Catalina.

The three honorable mention winners were: Dianne Kotowski of Pacific Grove High School; Sandy Smith of Carmel High School and Curry Griggs of Santa Catalina School for Girls. All six winners were given one year memberships in the Junior Division of the State Federation. All poems will be eligible to be entered in the State Poetry Contest that closes April 1.

Much interest has been shown by the schools and students and the Carmel Chapter hopes to make a poetry contest among the High School students an annual event, according to Mrs. Young.

Prizes were provided by chapter members and the Carmel Pine Cone. "Arthur G. Wild, chairman of the contest, worked enthusiastically in support of what the Chapter feels to be a successful venture in furthering the interest of poetry among the young people of the community," Mrs. Young stated.

Fenton Gas Pumps Hearing Set For 2:00 P.M. Friday

The Superior Court hearing on the Fenton Plaza parking garage and gas station has been changed to 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon instead of 10:00 o'clock in the morning.

At that time City Attorney John Morse will try to show why the temporary restraining orded against the Carmel Planning Commission's granting a building permit to the Carmel Plaza Corporation should not be permanent.

Burden of proof is on the city.

RED CROSS DRIVE AT HALF-WAY POINT

August H. Johnson, fund drive chairman, reports that the Red Cross fund drive is over the halfway hump.

"To date we have collected $14663.00 toward our goal of $28436.00," he announces "Individual contributions show an increase over last year and we hope that the contributions yet to come in will show the same proportionate increase, thus we would be assured of reaching our goal. Residential solicitors have not all completed their rounds but uniformed volunteers will be on Ocean Avenue in front of the Crocker-Anglo Bank the last week in March for those who might have been missed," Mr. Johnson concluded. Those wishing to mail their contribution may do so by mailing to Carmel Red Cross, Box AR Carmel.

2 Big Decision Special Meetings Out Of The Blue

Two special meetings will be held at the same time tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Notices of both of them went out this morning.

The school board will consider petitioning the county board of supervisors to include an election for annexation of the Carmel Unified School District to the Monterey Peninsula Junior College District in the June 7 Primaries.

The city council will consider "closing the deal" on purchase of three lots on Torres Street behind the Youth Center and adjoining the city corporation yard on Junipero Street at a cost of around $70,000.

Both meetings involve final and irrevocable action. Both are special meetings called on short notice. Both have implications that are far from trivial to the taxpayer, especially in the case of the school board's action, since no commitment, even informal, has been received from Monterey school board as to price formula for purchase of the college, nor on trustee districts, nor has the state study of operation costs of the college on a Peninsula scale been received. Nothing has been produced to show how much more would be the cost for the Carmel School District taxpayers than the present 50 cent tuition-tax.

Both meetings pose a problem to the conscientious citizen: How to be at city hall and at Principal Warren Edwards' office at the high school at 5:00 o'clock. They are not coterminous.

It is not a surprise that the city council considers purchase of the lots. Negotiations have been going on since October with the owner and agent. The surprise comes in the council's calling a special meeting on short notice to conclude the "deal." While negotiations were in progress there were indications several times that the offer would be withdrawn, and citizens who might not agree with the purchase had no reason to offer objections.

It is not a surprise that the school board is considering calling an election on Carmel District's annexation to Monterey Junior College District. The school board sent a notice of intention to the state department of education last October. That notice of intention had certain provisions: "That the Monterey Union High School District establish a cost of the present junior college facility to the proposed Monterey Junior College District prior to calling the election." Also, that trustee areas be set up so that representation on the proposed Peninsula junior college board be two for Pacific Grove, two for Carmel and three for Monterey. Also, Carmel requested a state survey of operation costs.

Carmel board has insisted that it would not call an election until these provisions were satisfied. Monterey has said that it could not legally set a price before annexation. Tuesday night two Carmel board members met with a committee from the Monterey and Pacific Grove boards in Monterey. Carmel representatives, Mrs. Adrian Bennett and George Yates, announced that they wanted to

$700.00 In Forged Checks In Carmel Merchants' Hands

Carmel police announced this morning that "many" forged checks, amounting to $700, have been passed locally, allegedly by Mary Beth Berry, 21, using the name of Mrs. C. A. Cuva. The checks were passed last week, mostly in women's wear shops and have been marked "forged" by the Bank of America, Monterey branch.

Attention of the police was brought to the forged checks last night when Joyce's Jewelry Shop on Ocean Avenue brought them a check marked "forged" by the bank. The police checked with the Bank of America in Monterey this morning and found many checks totalling $700, allegedly by Mary Beth Berry using Mrs. Cuva's name, had been marked forged by the bank.

According to the police, Mary Beth Berry, five feet five inches tall, with dark hair, apparently a college student, passed checks in local shops last week. She has left the Peninsula and at present her whereabouts is unknown to Carmel police.

Police inquiries ascertained that Mary Beth Berry was apparently a former school friend of Mrs. Cuva's daughter. Mrs. Cuva is the wife of Dr. Charles Cuva, a Monterey dentist.

Many merchants may yet be unaware of the forgeries, police state.

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS AT HIGH SCHOOL FIELD SATURDAY MORNING

Candidates for the Carmel Little League will have their first chance to strut their stuff this Saturday morning from 8:00 'til noon at the Carmel High diamond where Little League managers and director of player personnel, Ed Bauman, will be on hand to observe the future diamond greats. Players new to Little League ball and those who participated in the minor league program last year are invited to attend this Saturday's tryout session. Boys who were members of a major league team last year are not required to participate in the tryouts, but the managers could use a little help from the veterans when it comes to pitching batting practice and hitting fly balls to the outfielders. In order to participate in Little League, a youngster must be 8 years of age before August 1 and must not have reached his 13 birthday before August 1. All ball players are required to have a birth certificate on file with the Little League directors before they can be assigned to a team.

Players should bring their own gloves to the tryout sessions, but lack of a glove will not keep a boy from trying out for Little League. Ed Bauman and his staff will make sure that every boy who shows up has a chance to show how deft he is in the national pastime.

Two more tryout camps are slated after Saturday's opening session. On Saturday, April 2nd and Saturday, April 9, prospective Little Leaguers will again gather at the Carmel High diamond for further workouts. Following the April 9 tryouts, players will be assigned to the major and minor league teams for competition which is slated to begin on April 25.

Their is still need for minor league managers. If interested, please contact Jack Miller or Bob Connell.

PADRE NINE EDGED BY KING CITY IN LEAGUE OPENER

Despite Phil O'Shea's brilliant two-hit pitching performance, Carmel High's varsity baseball team finished on the short end of a 2-1 count at King City last Friday afternoon as the CCAL B-division baseball flag chase got underway. O'Shea struck out seven Mustang swingers while fashioning his two-hitter, but three infield miscues betrayed the little senior curveball artist and the valley lads capitalized on the Padre mistakes to push across the winning runs.

King City hit the scoreboard for the first time in the third heat when Dave Johnson got a life on an error and was driven across by Randy Litzenberg. The Padres evened the count in the fifth frame when Dave Fuller drew a free pass and was driven home by a well-stroked single from the bat of Carlos Montenegro. King City picked up the clincher in the sixth inning when the same Johnson reached first on an infield miscue and was again driven in by second baseman Litzenberg.

Diminutive Carlos Montenegro, a hustling newcomer to Carmel High baseball, was the batting star of the game, hitting three clean single trips to the plate and driving in the only Padre run. The little scooter also sparkled in the field as he hauled down everything hit his way. Ron Faia, Padre second-baseman, turned in two top fielding plays when he went deep into the outfield to rob King City batters of sure base hits.

Next league action for the Carmel nine is slated for this afternoon at 3:30 when the strong Gilroy aggregation visits the Carmel diamond. Gilroy tried the A-league competition last year but received some pretty rough treatment from the big A-league schools and asked to be dropped down with the smaller clubs this season. Big Chris Wilkin will toe the rubber for the Padres in this one with veteran catcher Dave Hansen behind the plate.

Friday afternoon, the Padres move out to Pebble Beach to help the Robert Louis Stevenson School dedicate its new baseball diamond. Jim Brown will draw the pitching assignment against RLS with Frank Bucher doing the catching.

SALINAS TRACK SQUAD TOO STRONG FOR PADRES

Piling up twelve first places out of thirteen events, the powerful Salinas High track squad easily defeated Carmel and Pacific Grove in a triangular meet at Bardarson Field last Friday afternoon. The Cowboys accumulated 90 points to 41 for Carmel and 7 for Pacific Grove. Carmel garnered one first place when hurdler Al Dahlstrand zipped the 120 highs in 16.2 to pick up the five-pointer. Salinas also ran away with the lightweight meet, amassing 102 points while Carmel was picking up 19½ to Pacific Grove's 17½.

Salinas had three double winners in the varsity division, Don Hunt winning both the high jump and broad jump, Bill Porter taking a double in the 220 and 440, and Gil LeLievere winning the pole vault and 180 low hurdler. In the lightweight division Salinas' John Chappell scored a triple in the two sprints and the high jump to lead his mates to the lopsided win.

Varsity performers scoring points for the Padres were Bill True, 3rd in the high hurdles and 4th in the lows; Al Dahlstrand, 1st in high hurdles and 3rd in the lows; Joe Foster, 2nd in 880; Danny Moore, 4th in 880; Julio Montenegro, 3rd in 100 and 4th in 220; Dick Panther, 3rd in 220; Buddy Steffen, 3rd in the mile; Paul Rice, 3rd in shot put; Bill Coleman, 2nd in broad jump and discus; Bill King, 3rd in high jump; Dave Juwell, tie for second in pole vault; Gary Clay, tie for second in pole vault; and Wylie Bryant, 3rd in discus.

Lightweight scorers were Jon Raggett, 4th in both hurdles; Steve Fairfield, 3rd in low hurdles; Barry Murphy, 3rd in 660; Terry Butler, 4th in 1320; Richard Zenteno, 2nd in high jump, Terry Bishop, tie for 2nd in broad jump and 2nd in discus; Ken Friddle, 4th in shot and discus; and Gary Mumford, 4th in the pole vault.

Coach Hadley Hicks sends his Carmel thinclads into more track action tomorrow afternoon at the Monterey Peninsula College oval where they will match swift and brawn with the Monterey Toreadores and the Live Oak Acorns. The competition may be a little sticky in this one as Monterey is rated the strongest track squad in the CCAL A-division, with outstanding times and distances in all thirteen events. Live Oak has some good middle-distance talent but lacks the depth to threaten the likes of Monterey or Carmel.

Gerda Johnson

Mrs. Gerda M. Johnson died on Sunday evening in a Salinas hospital after six months of ill health. She came to live in Carmel with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Wild, two and a half years ago.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Gothenburg, Sweden, on January 9, 1871. She came to the United States when she was 18 years old and married a childhood friend from Gothenburg, John Enoch Johnson, in Cleveland, Ohio. For 40 years her home was in Oakland.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Johnson is survived by a son, Norman E. Johnson of Sacramento; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the Healey Mortuary in Salinas. Burial was in Cemeterio El Encinal, Monterey.

Art On The Peninsula

A collection of the late Edward Weston's photographs are on exhibit at Monterey Peninsula College for the next two weeks.

The library lecture hall, in which the photographs are hung, is open from 9:00 in the morning to 2:00 in the afternoon; 6:30 to 9:00 o'clock at night, Mondays through Thursdays, and from 9:00 to 2:00 o'clock on Fridays.

There will be several shows of the work of distinguished photographers in the library lecture hall this spring, including exhibition of the work of Wynn Bullock and Edward C. Forsyth.

Many Carmelites planned to see the show of paintings at Monterey College from University of Arizona's Pfeiffer and Gallagher Collection, and then found the exhibition was over and they hadn't. The show lasted from March 8 through March 18. This was plenty of time. Distance seems to have been the barrier. It's a project to go over the hill, involving a lot more trouble and time than it would have been to visit the show in Carmel.

The American Federation of Arts, Monterey Peninsula Chapter, co-sponsored the show, a good deed, and it certainly obtained for their newly organized chapter the prestige it deserves. We hope they continue to bring fine art shows to the peninsula, but we should like to have them consider the possibilities of bringing some of them to Carmel.

It would present difficulties. The several Carmel Art Galleries are sales organizations and cannot afford to give space for non-sale shows, but there may be other places where an art exhibition could be hung: in our schools, clubhouses, church clubrooms. It would be worth the AFA's thinking about. The Carmel Art Commission also might give it some thought. It might not be as impossible as it seems at first glance.

Award winners in last Friday's art show at the Craft Studios were Mrs. R. Menmuir of Monterey and Mrs. H.K. Wylie of Carmel. Rooky Busic of Carmel won a special award. Winners were decided by popular vote at the weekly event.

H. S. Senior Comedy "Young And Gay" To Play April 1-2

Carmel Seniors are producing Our Hearts Were Young and Gay by Cornelia Otis Skinner on April 1 and 2 in Sunset Auditorium. This year's senior play is the hilarious story of two wide-eyed young girls on their first trip to Europe.

The escapades of the two nineteen-year old girls, Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, played by Mary Weisiger and Ciji, Ware, create riotous chaos on board ship and in Europe.

The rest of the stellar cast includes Toby Edson and Bozzy Williams who play two handsome, dashing young Harvard medical students the girls meet on route to Europe; Tom Green and Ethel Prowell have the roles of Cornelia's parents; Kathy Aldrich, Mike Bein, Wendy Wiegman, Peter de Petra, and Joe Foster, five members of the ship's company; Jennie Hill and Susan McKenzie play two eccentric passengers the girls meet on board ship; Jim Woolfenden, the fastidious French actor; Veronica Taylor, Teressa, Randi Randolph as Madame Elise, and Tim Mitchell, the French window washer—the last four appear when the young voyagers get to Europe.

Tickets for the performance will be sold by all the members of the Senior Class, at the door on production night up until show time, 8:15, and at the Central Box Office in Carmel.

The play, directed by Mrs. Hazel Mohler, has been in preparation since February.

KIWANIS WIN COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

Kiwanis International has won a top award, the George Washington Medal, from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, according to Paul Hanson, president of the Carmel Kiwanis Club. This award is comparable to the film industry Oscar prize, he adds.

The medal was won by Kiwanis International through the organization's program of community service carried on by 258,000 members in 4700 clubs. Carmel Kiwanis Club members took an active part in this program, Mr. Hanson emphasizes.

Carmel Citizens Committee
Carmel-by-the-Sea, Calif.
March 20, 1960

Dear Editor:

Thanks for your coverage of the proposed plan for Carmel's business district.

I urge every citizen of Carmel to go to the City Hall, obtain a copy of the proposed Central District Plan and Zoning Ordinance, and study them,—study them hard. I repeat,—study them carefully; because what we finally adopt for our Plan and Zoning will determine what Carmel will look like and be like from now on.

The proposal, although about five years late, has many excellent features. Subject to closer examination, my first impression is decidedly favorable. The Planning Commission and their able consultant, Mr. Gordon Hall, are deserving of thanks for their work.

However, the plan fails to limit the sizes of business structures. It also fails to limit the size of building sites in the business district. In my opinion such limits are essential if Carmel's traditional and charming village characteristics are not to give way to the typical "resort town" Main Street,—which God forbid!

Without such limits a whole block could have a single building erected upon it, provided only that every 80 feet there should be an architectural "break-front." Not good enough for Carmel! Look at the structure on Ocean Avenue between Mission and Junipero. Bulk and mass are out of place in Carmel.

Except for public buildings, churches, etc., building sites in the business district should not exceed 8000 square feet (two 40-foot lots), and buildings should be limited as to volume and site coverage.

The plan also offers an interesting scheme of needed traffic control. I recommend that it be tried out right away, using sand bags and temporary signs, so that when public hearings are held we will have facts to guide us.

Herbert Myers Wins $100 First Prize In Music Competition

In a competition open to Monterey Peninsula high school soloists, Herbert Myers of Carmel received the first prize award of $100 for his playing of the Bach English Suite in A-minor, for piano. The second prize of $50 went to James Yensen, clarinetist, of Monterey Union High School, and the third prize to Gene Poe, trumpet, of North Salinas High School. These prizes were awarded by the Musicians' Union, Local 616, for outstanding performance.

Herbert Myers has been studying piano for the past four years with Gilbert Boyer, concert pianist and director of the Chamber Music Society of Carmel and the Carmel Studios of Music. Prior to that time he studied piano with his mother and with Constance Shirley and Mrs. Shirley, Sr. of Hollywood.

He is a senior in Carmel High School, where he has been active in all the music groups. In cooperation with Mr. John Farr, Carmel High music instructor, he has organized the Recorder Club, which meets Saturday mornings to play compositions for recorders and woodwinds. Herbert plays violin and clarinet as well as piano and recorder. He played violin in the Honor Orchestra. Last week he played a Bach composition at the Junior Bach Festival Auditions in Berkeley. He also teaches piano weekends.

Young Myers is an honor student at Carmel High, is active in C-Bees, Church of the Wayfarer Youth Group, and in projects dealing with the natural sciences. His mother is a teacher and his father, Herbert L. Myers, Sr., is professor of electrical engineering at the Naval Postgraduate School.

Fenton Gas Pumps Hearing Set For 2:00 P.M. Friday

R. Walker and Thomas S. Montgomery, have brought the action against the city.

Basis of the action is the Carmel planning commission's interpreting parking lot to mean parking garage, and a gasoline service to be an "accessory" use to a parking lot.

Named as defendants are the Carmel Planning Commission, Carmel Plaza, a corporation which seeks a building permit for the 160-car parking garage and gas station, Carmel Building Inspector Floyd Adams and Carmel City Council. The council upheld the planning commission decision 3-2 on appeal.

Last week Superior Judge Anthony Brazil issued a writ restraining the planning commission from approving a building permit for the proposed Fenton shopping center parking garage and gas station until after tomorrow's hearing.

Application for the permit was on the agenda of yesterday's planning commission meeting. The restranining order delayed any commission action on the matter.

Central District Plan, New Zoning Ordinance Hearings Set April 4

parking the planning commission has exercised under the interim ordinance have been written into the code, and the commission has been given design review. There is also a prohibition against floodlighted buildings, portions of buildings and fences.

Copies of the proposed new central business district zoning ordinance are for sale at city hall for 25 cents. Reproductions of the general plan map, for 10 cents.

Helen Baldwin

Miss Helen Baldwin, a retired teacher who had lived in Carmel since 1941, died on Monday in a local hospital after a long illness. Her home was on Lincoln Street near Ninth Avenue.

Miss Baldwin was born in Newark, New Jersey, on July 31, 1874. She lived in Berkeley before moving to Carmel.

She leaves two nephews, Wesley C. and Gardner A. Millery of Berkeley.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

AUTHENTIC MELODRAMA WITH OLIO

Music On The Peninsula

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

The Carmel Chamber Music Society, last Sunday at the Woman's Club, presented an interesting program of baroque and modern compositions to a fair-sized audience of supporters. The concert opened with Purcell's Largo from Sonata No. 9 by the Chamber Orchestra conducted by Gilbert Boyer. Violinist Eiko Yoshizato in the first desk; George Beck, Charlotte Perry, Laura Temple and Sheila Webster, violins; Jerald Slavich and Marie Sale, violas; Mary Dobel and Elaine Nickel, cellos; Edwin Culver, double-bass; Raymond Fabrizio and Katheryne Thompson, flutes; Lloyd Clapper, oboe, and Lydia Baker, pianist, comprise the small orchestra which performed the Purcell and also the Vivaldi Concerto for Flute and Chamber Group. Both these appealing compositions have a beauty and simplicity of musical phrase that holds their listeners and were well delivered by the musicians who are nearly all experienced members of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. Prokofieff's Sonata for Flute and Piano op. 94 received an exhilarating performance by Fabrizio and Boyer. It is a typical example of this modern work and was my second hearing of the composition which Fabrizio played last season with his wife at a Nepenthe Concert. Its peculiar harmonies and counterpoint become intriguing while its rhythmic flow precipitates it to a brilliant finale of the Allegro. The players were enthusiastically recalled.

Carolyne Solmonson, mezzo-soprano, who has a voice of thoroughly musical quality and uses it with feeling and control, sang O Toi, Qui Prolongeas mes Jours from Gluck's Iphigenia in Tauris, and Handel's Alma Mia from Floridante to Chamber Orchestra accompaniment. The musical purity of phrase that characterizes Gluck's writing suited the singer's temperament admirably. When we realize the place of Gluck as a reformer in operatic composition, it was little wonder that Paris was split into his and the Italian camps when Iphigenie in Aulis, an earlier opera, was performed showing Gluck's dramatic truth and not just flowery vocalism. It is this that makes the arias of Gluck ring true, and Solomonson gave out the quality with sincerity and charm.

Two Brahms contralto songs were also given by the singer sympathetically accompanied by Helen Shutes, violinist, and Gilbert Boyer. It was a concert of just the right length and all were thoroughly appreciated and applauded.

The next Chamber Concert brings a visiting group from San Francisco.

The Pacific Concert Guild of Hollywood, responsible for the Flamenco dancer La Malaguena, has much to learn about "presentation" of artists, for not only program and stage arrangements were muddled, but announcements from the stage were in such an undertone that few of the less than half-a-house could have caught. Last year a fuller house and a notable performance resulted. The art of La Malaguena is undoubtedly mature and flexible but was at a slight disadvantage Friday with the instrumental accompaniments of pianist Jerry Yule and guitarist Frederick Noad who could not fully meet her spirited interpretations as her former associates had done. Nevertheless she performed thirteen Spanish dance forms of Seville, Jerez, Cordoba, Country Dance from the North, A Classic, Traditional from Valencia, Fire Dance, Dance from Cadiz and from Bizet's Carmen with characteristic abandon, and sang a Gypsy Song with uncultured voice that suited it, of course. Picturesque Flamenco dancing has become a modern rage, even in London where a Madrid Company is currently drawing big houses. Changes of attractive costumes and actions that the 21-year-old La Malaguena has developed since childhood show great skill and temperament, though at times a similarity of head swirls and skirt swishes become somewhat monotonous; but this and shoe stamping is "Flamenco," which the audience present enjoyed. Frederick Noad, the guitarist, had technique and a pleasing manner that was applauded, though both he and the pianist seemed more like schoolboys trying it out!

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra goes into rehearsal again next Monday at Sunset Auditorium under Earl Murray's baton. Those who would like to know more about the preparation for symphony performance should slip in and hear a rehearsal!

Agnes Southwell

Mrs. Agnes Muir Southwell, a resident of Carmel for 24 years, died on Saturday in a local rest home after a long period of failing health. She was the widow of James Malcolm Southwell, for 18 years custodian at the Church of the Wayfarer.

Mrs. Southwell was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, on November 26, 1878. She came to the United States following her marriage, and lived in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, before moving to Carmel in 1936. Her home was on Lincoln Street between Ocean and Seventh Avenues.

In Pittsburgh Mrs. Southwell was a member of the Daughters of Scotia, Argyll Lodge 48, and the Royal Neighbors. In Carmel she was a member of the Church of the Wayfarer.

Survivors are a son, James M. Southwell Jr. of Pacific Grove; a daughter, Mrs. Edith Alexander of Palo Alto; a brother, John M. Ferguson of Inglewood; three grandchildren, James Malcolm Southwell III of Van Nuys, Mrs. Jack Clothier of Mesa, Arizona, and Mrs. Richard Bangham of Sunnyvale; and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the Paul Funeral Chapel with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Cementerio El Encinal.

Letters To The Editor . . .

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone

A few weeks ago, you remarked editorially that one campaign issue, the planting of trees all in straight rows, was no longer an issue, since some trees on Mission Street had been planted in staggered fashion. The issue is very clear, and I would like to state it in a way that may make it clearer.

The pattern and appearance of our residential streets is being set by a tree planting pattern that is still far too rigid. When many of our streets were laid out, especially in the north and east sections of town, where the forest predominated, and where the land is hilly, the streets conformed to a large degree to the pattern of the trees already growing, the paved portions were narrow, and wandered from side to side of the right-of-way.

The present planting pattern is to plant trees either one and a half feet out, or six and a half feet out from the property line, and nowhere else. There have been many opportunities, because of the wide unpaved portion, to plant trees 8, 10 or 12 feet out, but this has not been done. Even on San Carlos Street, a 60 foot street, with theoretical sidewalks of 10 feet instead of 8, trees have been planted the same monotonus way. As the older trees go, and they are going at an alarming rate, the stage will be set for widening and straightening these now charming winding streets, and there will go another bit of Old Carmel.

Perhaps the most glaring example is to be seen on upper Ocean Avenue, just east of Carpenter. There is a wide bare spot on the south side, perhaps 30 feet wide and a hundred feet long, for which I suggested planting, clump planting if possible, as there was lots of room, this also being at one of the main entrances to Carmel, and worthy of some real thought. Furthermore, the sidewalks are established by ordinance on upper Ocean Avenue at 20 feet, leaving ample room for planting. The result—? Three trees in a nice straight row, all six and a half feet out from the property line.

If our City administration lacks the courage to plant trees where trees are needed, and where they will help maintain the informal character of our residence area, it is time to make this an issue in the campaign.

Sincerely,
Francis Whitaker

The Editor, Pine Cone

As I am "tongue tied" when it comes to speaking in public, I must take this means of expressing myself after attending the three lectures given by Mr. Milton Mayer at the Monterey Peninsula Jr. College and sponsored by the college.

The three lectures comprised a great many words, very smoothly put together, to subtly put across some very startling, and to me, shocking ideas. I was amazed at how the audience so rarely disagreed with him; were they "brain washed" by his flow of words, or were they unable, as I was, to voice their opinions in public?

I was born in California and one of my ancestors came over on the Mayflower, and I believe in my country's constitution and would be proud to sign a loyalty oath; why should any local American who doesn't want to overthrow our constitution think it would "infringe on his liberty?" I do not believe in Communism for our country or for any country except Russia, if they so desire it. If we don't like the "Powers that Be" we can vote in to office our choice. This right we have in our free elections, which they don't have in Communist dominated countries.

I think the F.B.I. has done a wonderful courageous job. We need protection from subversive elements who are merely out to get authority and power in their hands by stirring up hatreds among our unsuspecting public. It takes great courage these days to stand up and talk against Communism.

I wonder if the people last night who signed to join and start an "American Civil Liberties Group" on the Peninsula really know what they were joining; I certainly wouldn't sign it or join it.

And last, if Hungary wasn't fighting Communism when she tried for Freedom, what was she fighting? And why are the Communists in that country still killing the Freedom fighters as they come of age?

Dear Mrs. Cook:

Would the Pine Cone consider publishing, at least in part, an edited printing of Colonel De Camp's address to the city council at the meeting on February 29, when he made that fine talk reminding us all of Carmel's "heritage"? There are so many newcomers to Carmel who are ignorant of the very things Colonel De Camp emphasized: the intangible values that have made Carmel the very "special" place that it is. He pointed out so truly that we have an entrustment which those who went before us have left us as a heritage to be honored and valued.

As Carmel became nationally and internationally known and loved for its uniqueness, its beauty and its special charm, it was inevitable that outside capital should try to exploit it; that the almighty dollar might reap the harvest by spoiling the very thing that makes it what it is.

Commercial interest made a strong bid for tourists and in so doing they have created a Frankenstein that bids fair to un-do Carmel's unique character unless every true lover of Carmel enlists himself as a Crusader for the Spirit of Carmel and its intangible values.

The fires of love burned brightly in the hearts of those who dreamed and visioned Carmel and then built a foundation under that dream, which has blessed us all so richly. Are the embers of those fires now so low that we can fan them only with our hats? Can we not fuel them with our hearts?

Let's give thanks that The Pine Cone remains to us.

Yours with appreciation,
Miss Grayce McKay

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone:

To all true lovers of Carmel and its tradition of the Residential First, Business Second, Col. De Camp's letter in the March 17 issue of the Pine Cone, reporting the defection of a cultural endowment of some two hundred thousand dollars came as an atomic shock.

It is indeed time for all true Carmelians to awaken to what its City Council leadership has done, and is now doing, to undo the work of a generation of distinguished villagers who left it an heritage of charm and simplicity unsurpassed.

With faces turned more in the direction of Pebble Beach than to our own illustrious past, this misguided leadership has at times, sought to encourage the State Engineers in their atrocious depredations on Carmel Hill; attempted to abolish our own devoted Carmel Forest Commission; attempted to destroy the symbolism of Carmel simplicity by the introduction of parking meters; encouraged a tasteless Planning Commission to foist upon us the idea of a modernistic expensive Civic Center, bizarrely overlooking, not a pleasing landscape, but the drab paraphernalia of a municipal maintenance yard, and finally, if you will, wantonly nullifying the spirit and intent of our treasured basic zoning law in the gas pump case.

Before we cast out any more cultural endowments, our citizenry must be awakened. To that end, we should like to see the Pine Cone asume its share in publishing and making reprints available, the speech to Council by Col. De Camp on Feb. 29 last in which these issues were clarified and brought into focus for all to see. Will the Pine Cone help?

Thanking you,
Alice A. Heath

Yes, certainly.

THE APRICOT SNOW

Under the apricot tree it is snowing
Snowing, but not with snow!
Thousands of delicate petals blowing,
Spiralling as they go.

Lightly they fall as a falling feather
Lost from the flight of a dove,
Laid on the air of this lyrical weather
Gently, as though by love.

Over the grass it is growing whiter
Yet, than an hour ago,
Winter is magical—ah but brighter
Still is the apricot snow!

DEATH VALLEY IN SPRING

In a mirage of time and winds,
How faint the creak of wagons
From the Panamints.
How softly the shadowy mules
Pass and re-pass
Innumerable shafts turning and re-turning
In a dim shift and swing of bells.

But it is Spring, and the traveler sees
How the valley quickens from the cold of winter
To a feldspar glow—
How it lies like a long flowering vine
Between the golden Funerals;
Layers down to below level of sea,
To a reservoir of no water.
To epitaphs in lime.

—KAY DEBARD HALL

SANCTUARY

If anywhere beneath these curving skies,
There is a garden, morning-fresh and cool,
Where dreams may loiter, guarded from surprise,
And lilies drowse upon a quiet pool;
Where lizards sprawl against a sun-warmed rock,
Secure in peace held long inviolate,
Then let my searching fingers find the lock
That hides in folds of ivy on the gate.

There let me linger while the moments climb
Like play-spent children to the lap of Day,
Who gently lays the healing balm of time
Upon their hurts and wipes the tears away.
Then, from a stream of beauty, deep and wide,
I'll fill my cup—and carry it outside.

Mrs. Eleanor Lee Commits Suicide With Plastic Bag

Carmel police discovered the body of Mrs. Eleanor Katherine Lee on a couch in the living room of her home at Camino Real and Tenth Avenue, Friday evening at 5:00 o'clock. A plastic bag covered her head.

Police made a forced entry after meeting Mrs. Lee's daughter, Mrs. Lillian Lotus White, at her mother's home. Earlier Mrs. White reported she could not reach her mother by telephone and was alarmed. Mrs. Lee lived alone and had been despondent over ill health.

She attempted suicide in November, according to Coroner Christopher Hill Jr., who stated Mrs. Lee had asphyxiated herself the day the body was discovered.

Mrs. Lee had lived in Carmel for 15 years. She was born in Berkeley on October 5, 1901.

Survivors, in addition to her daughter in Carmel, are two sons, Allen Steck of Berkeley and George Steck of Albuquerque, New Mexico; a sister, Mrs. Ethel Scovil of Moab, Utah; two brothers, Parker Allen and Homer Allen of Berkeley; and five grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Monday in Mission Mortuary, Inurnment was in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Sports-Hobby Show To Have Contests, Parachute Landing

Daily contests with prizes for both youngsters and adults are scheduled for April 1-3 at the Second Annual Sports Hobby Show at the Monterey County Fair Grounds. Military Chess, top spinning, marbles, ping pong and golf driving represent some of the contests designed to make the show active and exciting.

There will also be craft exhibitions, go-cart and archery demonstrations, in addition to the boating, camping, bowling and other displays.

A parachute landing is planned for an area immediately adjacent to the Fairgrounds, and the Flying Lobos of Monterey Peninsula College will have an exhibit in the show.

Persons wishing to enter any of the above contests will be sent free tickets by mailing their name, address, age and event to Tripp, Grannis and Smith, Box 374, Monterey, California — or by calling FR 3-4447 during the day.

Both the Jaxon Art Studios and the Carmel Sport Shop will be represented in this year's show.

Dr. Legge

Dr. Robert T. Legge, retired professor and physician of the University of California and the father of Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, died on Monday. He collapsed as the academic procession was forming at the foot of the Campanile for Charter Day ceremonies on the Berkeley campus. Taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital, he was pronounced dead, apparently of a heart attack.

Dr. Legge was born in San Francisco 87 years ago. He received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of California in 1899. From 1915-1942 he served as professor of hygiene at UC, part of the time as head of the department. From 1914-1938 he was university physician and established the first student health service in the United States. Dr. Legge also planned and supervised the building of Cowell Memorial Hospital on the U. C. campus. This was the first student hospital approved by the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Legge was particularly interested in industrial medicine. He lectured in this field and established courses which led to the first industrial health programs in this state. He organized the California State Medical Society's section on industrial medicine and served as its first chairman. He also established and was first president of the Western Association of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons and was an honorary member of the American Academy of Occupational Medicine.

In 1951 Dr. Legge received the William S. Knudsen Award, highest industrial medicine honor, on the eighth occasion it was awarded in 36 years. An honorary doctorate was conferred on Dr. Legge by the University of California at Charter Day exercises in 1948.

Besides Mrs. Wurzmann, he is survived by his wife, Renee, of Berkeley; two sons, Dr. Robert T. Legge Jr. of San Diego and Herbert Legge of Berkeley; and several grandchildren including Renee and Andrea Wurzmann of Carmel.

Dr. Legge was a frequent Carmel visitor and had many friends here.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The divine source of all real perception and understanding will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality."

Events in the lives of the prophets Elijah and Elisha will be featured in the Bible readings. Also included will be Paul's statement on prophecy to the Thessalonians: "Quench not the Spirit. Despise not prophesyings. Prove all things; hold fast that which is good" (I Thessalonians 5:19-21).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy are the following:

"Spirit imparts the understanding which uplifts consciousness and leads into all truth . . . Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and unreal . . . This understanding is not intellectual, is not the result of scholarly attainments; it is the reality of all things brought to light" (505:16-17, 20-22, 26-28).

Ken and Evelyn Stewart Here

Ken Stewart, former newspaperman who is now professor of journalism at the University of Michigan ,and his wife, Evelyn Seeley Stewart, until recently a feature writer for the Detroit Free Press, visited Roy and Elayne Chanslor last week end. There was much reminiscing.

Roy Chanslor first knew Evelyn Stewart when she was a reporter in San Francisco. He met Ken Stewart when Ken combined studies at Stanford University with a job on the San Francisco Chronicle. Later Roy and Ken shared an apartment in Greenwich Village, New York.

Ken Stewart is on sabbatical leave from the University of Michigan. He is doing research on the United Nations as a medium of communications in association with a Stanford journalism department project. This summer he will give a journalism course at the University of California. Evelyn Seeley Stewart resigned from the staff of the Detroit Free Press to spend this year in California with her husband.

Before becoming a professor, Ken Stewart worked for the New York Times, also the Herald Tribune. During his years in New York he was a university student and instructor and head of a newspaper copy desk, all at the same time. He has been associated with the Paris Herald, PM and the Literary Digest magazines and was a Neimann fellow at Harvard University. He also wrote News Is What We Make It.

On Saturday evening the Chanslor's invited a group of Carmel persons to meet the Stewarts at dinner. Invited were Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, Aaron Studybaker, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Vial, Mrs. Frank Lloyd and Miss Dorothy Stephenson who had known the Stewarts when she was a reporter on the New York Times and in San Francisco.

During the evening Ken Stewart discovered his cousin, Mrs. Viola Russ McBride, was occupying her Carmel home. The next day she saw him at the Chanslors' home and they reminisced about their childhood days in Eureka.

Before leaving to return to Michigan, the Stewarts plan to come to Carmel again and bring their son, Steve, with them. He is in the Navy, stationed at Treasure Island.

Myron Branson Married

Following a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs and Las Vegas, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Patrick Branson are living in Redwood City. Their recent wedding took place in St. Catherine's Church, Burlingame.

Myron attended Junipero Serra School at Carmel Mission before graduating from Carmel High School in 1952. He continued his education at Monterey Peninsula College where he was a member of both the football and basketball teams. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Branson of San Mateo, formerly of Carmel.

His bride is the former Lesta Jeanne Lorrain, daughter of Mrs. Lester H. Lorrain and the late Mr. Lorrain. She was a student at Mercy High School before entering the College of San Mateo dental college.

Carmel guests at the marriage were Mrs. Ben Updike and her son, Bob, Mr. and Mrs. William Conlan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Canham and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Canham and their small son, Stanley.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Vincent Onorato. She wore an Edwardian-style gown. The Empire bodice of imported Chantilly lace was used from her mother's wedding dress and below the waistline in princess lines, fell a full skirt of candlelight-white antique satin which flowed into a cathedral train in back. An heirloom cap of Chantilly lace held in place her chapel-length veil of French imported tulle illusion, also worn by her mother at her marriage. She carried a white mother of pearl prayer book topped with streamers of lilies of the valley and a spray of heather flown from her maternal grandparents' birthplace in Scotland.

Mary Ellen Cunha of San Mateo was the bride's maid of honor wearing a pink satin frock with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves, bell skirt and a crushed obi sash at the waist. Her bouquet was a spray of red roses.

Lorraine Eli of South San Francisco, Dorothy Gebicke of Paradise and Jacque Jean of San Francisco were the bridesmaids. Rose Marie Branson, the groom's sister, was junior bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in soft red satin gowns, similar in style to the maid of honor's, and carried red rose bouquets.

Tommy Branson was best man for his brother. Ushers were Don Wolf of Redwood City, Lou Jaramillo of San Francisco and the bride's brothers, Scott and Voncent Lorrain. Jimmy Gadd was ringbearer.

The bride's mother attended the ceremony in a muted regal blue print dress with a picture collar and draped skirt. Cymbidium orchids were used for her corsage.

The groom's mother wore a pale blue satin jacket dress and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Flies Here From Toronto

Mrs. Thomas Murray of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R.A. Kocher, and Dr. Kocher of Carmel Highlands.

Mrs. Murray crossed the continent by jet flight to visit Mrs. Kocher whom she last saw when she was 11 years old. Here, the weather and scenery fascinate the Canadian visitor, but flowers claim her particular attention, "There are so many we can't grow in our Canadian climate," she says remarking on the camellia bushes, rhododendrons and azaleas blooming in the Kochers' extensive hillside garden.

Surprise Birthday Party

Mrs. Ralph Skene invited her brother, Henry F. Dickinson, to have dinner with her on Tuesday evening. When they returned to Mr. Dickinson's home, he found a candled birthday cake on a table in front of the large bay window at one end of his living room. Shortly afterwards a group of friends arrived to share the cake with him and to drink his health from a three-handled antique silver loving cup filled with "nectar," specially mixed by Mr. Dickinson.

Quaffing the drink were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert, Marie Short, Jake Kenney, Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams, Lyn Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher and Mrs. Thomas Murray.

Father And Son Birthday

Richard H. Wright had a good reason to celebrate his birthday on March 8. His wife, Betsy, presented him with an eight pound, 14 ounce son that day. The baby, born at the Peninsula Community Hospital, was given his father's names, Richard Hale.

Young Richard was welcomed into the family by brothers and sisters Michael, Patrick and Kathleen McGibney and Charmaine Wright. His grandmothers are Mrs. Verne Skillman of Hatton Fields Mesa and Mrs. R.T. Wright of Grantville, Kansas. The latter is happy about her first grandson to carry on the family name.

2 Big Decisions Special Meetings Out Of The Blue

include the junior college election in the June primary election (deadline on petitioning the supervisors would be April 4) if Monterey board would come to an "informal" agreement as to price or price formula, and take formal action on the trustee districts by filing a petition with the county committee of school district re-organization. The Monterey board would also have to file an "acceptance" of Carmel annexation.

The June primary date emerging at the Tuesday committee meeting is a surprise, at least to the public. Yates, in reporting at the last Carmel board meeting that it would be necessary to postpone the Carmel school bond election until next fall, dropped the suggestion that the junior college election be held with the primary. The other board members made no comment.

At Tuesday night's committee meeting in Monterey, the representatives of the three districts worked out a hurry-up schedule that would meet the April 4 deadline for the June primaries. It involved two special meetings of the Carmel board: one before the Monterey board meets Monday night, for the Carmel board to make formal request that the Monterey board present an "informal" formula of price, and that the Monterey board prepare its "acceptance," and that they petition the county committee for trustee districts. If Monterey board took this action, the Carmel board would hold another meeting immediately and formally petition the supervisors to call the election.

This morning county council informed the superintendents' offices that Monterey cannot file its acceptance until Carmel files petition for election. The petition for election is in the Carmel superintendent's office.

At tomorrow night's meeting the Carmel board will decide whether to act on it without waiting for the commitments their representatives have asked the Monterey board to make at their Monday meeting.

The school board has produced a shower of surprises, too many and on too short notice for the public to grasp, digest, and react to in their own interest. —W.C.

Paul Clark Involved In Hit-Run Case

Carmel police yesterday issued warrants against Paul Clark, Pebble Beach, charging hit-run driving and driving while intoxicated. The sheriff's office apprehended Clark after a deputy found him in a parked car near Carmel Mission about 7:00 o'clock on Monday evening. He was charged by the sheriff's office with being drunk in and about a car.

Carmel police warrants were not served by local police because Clark lives outside the city limits. The warrants were left to the jurisdiction of the Monterey Municipal Court.

The hit-run accident involving Clark took place about 6:50 o'clock on Monday evening on San Antonio Street between Eleventh and Twelfth Avenues. Chris Shepherd, 16, visiting a friend in the area, heard a crash, saw a parked car was damaged and another car was headed south on San Antonio. He borrowed his friend's bicycle and followed the car south to Santa Lucia Street, then east on Santa Lucia to Rio Road where he obtained the license number of the car and notified Carmel police.

A few minutes later a sheriff's deputy found Clark in a parked car near the Mission. The license number of the car was identical with the number given Carmel police by Shepherd.

The parked car on San Antonio Street allegedly hit by Clark, was registered to Dr. David Kupfer. The front left fender and grill of the vehicle were damaged.

Gold Box Kite, Dragon Face Take Honors In Festival

Hal's kite also won first place in the prettiest kite class (16 years and older) and Chris was awarded first place for the largest kite in the same age group.

Award winners in order of merit in other classes were, seven years and younger: Flying contest, Paul Sherman, Craig Tissot, Howard King; Largest, John Bradley, Ronnie Lando, Steven Edward; Prettiest, Debbie Street, Ford Tucker, Karen Ulataski.

Eight through 11 years: Flying, Kyle Catterlin, Bill Faulkner, Carol Heisel; Largest, Bill Edwards, Carl Meagher, Carol Heisel; Prettiest, Janet Stewart, Margaret Meagher, Tommy Aldrich.

Twelve through 15 years: Flying, Joe Anzini, Paul Heisel; Largest, Paul Heisel; Prettiest, Ronny Barry.

Sixteen years and older: Flying, Charles Brown.

Prizes were presented by the Carmel Lions Club. Ribbons were awarded by the Carmel Recreation Department. Both groups sponsored the annual event.
